PRESIDENTS REPORT

Hello wonderful humans, Another month, another monthly read! It has taken me longer than expected this month to find the time to sit down and reflect on what has been another 30 (plus) days of deliciously cool weather, wind and rain - remember that girl who loves the cold? (its me). This month has been busy for me - and its not even a holiday season! Life seems to fly between the 40 hour working week, getting at least 7 hours of sleep and finding hours, outside of travelling, food and jobs, to do the things we love. I know that saying no can be easy and staying home can be comfortable (and at the moment, warmer too!) but to me saying yes is an adventure! From a spontaneous road trip to a waterfall I have never seen to putting my hand up to help out whenever I can for GV Pride, I know my limits and I know what I need to do to make me happy. This month my limits got a little stretched, there is no shame in admitting you're a little stuck underneath a chaotic pile of life. However what is life without a never ending list of things to complete, places to be heading too and comfort zones to break away from? A good friend of mine often talks about needing to 'fill his cup', I'm sure I have used that phrase before in fact! For some that means needing more alone time or going out less, but for me it means being able to embrace my community, fight battles with them, laugh with them, volunteer with them. I feel lucky that I get this chance and I embrace it as often as I can. I am sure there as those of you who do not agree, that's ok too! We all need different things in our lives, some more and some less. Speaking from the experience of camp more I must say it is a continuing journey and every time something makes me fight those comfort zone wars with myself I remember to smile because I can feel relief knowing there are others out there fighting alongside of me.

GV PRIDE COMMITTEE

So if you're are looking for a little more in your life or maybe a change of pace or something new why not nominate to join our committee for the next year or two. We love people who have ideas, who want to contribute in some way that can continue to keep the ball rolling along. You don't need to have been on a committee before or even know how it works - we will teach you. The only requirement is that you are a current financial member, nothing more. It takes a team of us to continue to organise and run events, to be present in our community, to be there at markets and marches and Festivals too and if you're sitting there reading this thinking maybe then perhaps I can encourage you to turn that maybe into a yes? What have you got to lose? If so then please complete the nomination form (included here in the newsletter) and ensure your membership is up to date and I'll see you at our AGM in September!

OUTintheOPEN Festival is under 100 days away. I hope you all have it marked on your calendars! There is a wonderful team of dedicated volunteers helping make this years' Festival a hit. If you're wondering how you can help then please read on. Today a huge amount of delicious Cadbury goodies arrived. We are looking for people to take boxes and help us sell them, all funds raised go towards helping us fund this years' Festival. If you can help, please contact our PR officer Damien - I know you don't want to miss out on these tempting, brightly wrapped boxes of deliciousness! We will need plenty of volunteers to help out on Carnival Day in the Queens Gardens too! If you have an hour or two to spare then please visit outintheopen.org.au to get in touch with the Volunteer Coordinators, Ally and Nathan. GV Pride will be hosting a stall at three markets over the next three months too! If you want to help raise money for the Festival and sell GV Prides fabulously rainbow merchandise then please get in touch with me. All you need is a smile and some cash handling skills.

Don't forget we have dinner at the Peppermill coming up this month and another Fabulous Lemon Tree Brunch to look forward to. There is an amazing Fundraiser happening at the start of September for our Relay for Life team, Proud Rotarians, all funds raised go towards the cancer council of Australia. There will be another diner and drinks night at the Deck, our AGM and many more events, catch-ups and social opportunities to be had. I'm sure I will see you at one, or all of them! Until then, keep smiling, Georgie.

Results from the 2016 Melbourne Gay Community Periodic Survey

The results of this year's Melbourne Gay Community Periodic Survey were released, and give us a snapshot of sex and relationships in our communities.

Recruited throughout Melbourne's Midsumma festival at gay venues and events, the survey captured the responses of 2886 gay and same-sex attracted men to a broad set of questions about sex, relationships and sexual health. Conducted by the University of NSW in conjunction with partner organisations around the country, like VAC in Victoria, the gay community periodic surveys have been running since 1998, giving not just a snapshot but a picture of how trends change over time. Just one highlight of the 2016 survey is the effect of pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) on what sex and sexual health in our communities looks like, and how gay men are becoming more aware of ways to reduce the risk of HIV transmission. VAC CEO Simon Ruth said the findings from this year's survey were particularly interesting for the light they shed on PrEP use in the community. "This is really the first time we've been able to see the way PrEP is protecting our community," Ruth said. "The results around PrEP and undetectable viral load show us what we've known for a long time now, that gay men in Victoria are smart, aware, and willing to engage with new and often complex information about sexual health and HIV prevention." "Grass-roots initiatives like PrEPaccessNOW and PrEP'd for Change have shown us how gay men are taking the lead on educating and informing the community." ## GV Pride goes to "Simon's Final Sound" Fri 26 Aug @ 7.30pm

Brilliantly crafted moments of perfect comedy will leave your ribs aching.

A BLUE COW THEATRE production

Toured by Tasmania Performs

Multi-award-winning playwright Finegan Kruckemeyer was invited by Tasmania's popular Blue Cow Theatre to write a play especially for four gifted comedic performers.

A great spinner of fantastical tales, Fin dreamed up Simon's Final Sound – a play about a man who has little, and is about to have a whole lot less.

Simon's a bit of a no-hoper, and he is going deaf. He goes in search of a magical – but possibly mythical – island where, he thinks, he will find some consolation. To make the journey, Simon teams up with Michael, a dull banker with a duller life, and Michael's wife, Ginny, who is about to leave him. Also along for the ride is Claude, a blisteringly annoying blockhead with zero social skills.

Filling these four larger-than-life characters are four comic actors whose experience ranges from The Lion King to Circus Oz, and who've displayed those talents around the country and the world.

Launching from a jetty of loss and melancholy, Simon's Final Sound takes the audience on a colourful South Seas voyage with plenty of hula skirts, high-jinx and belly laughs, and makes land on an island of insight and compassion.

Audience Advice: Strong language and adult themes. Not recommended for young people under the age of 15.

PrEP

HIV Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis

What is it?

PrEP means Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis, and it's the use of anti-HIV medication that keeps HIV negative people from becoming infected. PrEP is approved by the FDA and has been shown to be safe and effective. A single pill taken once daily, it is highly effective against HIV when taken every day. The medication interferes with HIV's ability to copy itself in your body after you've been exposed. This prevents it from establishing an infection and making you sick. Even though PrEP has been around in the Australia for several years, not a lot of people know about it. And, even fewer people feel like they know enough about it to be able to make an informed decision about whether or not to use it. For those who do use it, the information they have might be more focused on practical issues, like where to get it, rather than on what PrEP does in the body to prevent HIV infection.

How do I get PrEP?

Not all doctors are fully informed that PrEP even exists, so it is recommended you do your research if you are interested in going onto PrEP. Truvada (the PrEP drug) has been approved by Australia's Therapeutic Goods Administration (TGA); however the drug has not yet been added to the Pharmaceutical Benefits Scheme meaning it is will cost a lot if not imported. Some options for importing Truvada are available at: www.prepaccessnow.com.au. Another option for getting Truvada cheaper is by applying for the PrEPX Study: you can enrol in the PrEPX Study by making an appointment at The Alfred Hospital, Contact them on (03) 9076 2940.

Poem OF THE MONTH

A father's love,

You know he got married late in life

but he soon became a dad,

His wife had two daughters and a son for that he was so glad,

Well he always showed his love for his children and hugged them everyday,
As they grew up the girls got married and sadly they moved away,

And as his son went off to war he was proud he had become a man,
And on leaving this country he followed other fathers trends and sadly shook his sons hand,

Now for all the time that he was gone he thought they should have embraced,
And he had time to get annoyed with traditions and pissed off with the human race,

He lived in fear of loosing his son because in war there are no guarantees,
And how would he survive if branches started to fall off his family tree,

But once his son got back he hugged his dad just like when he was a kid,
And his dad was glad he didn't shake his hand just the way he did,

Now there was always a myth that boy can be soft due to the upbringing that they've had,
So how can sending them off to war help them become a better dad.

Volunteering what it means to me!

Over the last 8 years I have volunteered with GV Pride. Over the 8 years I have been able to meet some great people while working on different skills that have helped go towards my career and self growth. My favorite part has been able to see the growth within new members that were unsure or didn't know anyone being new to town and loving the social connection and that they are not alone living in the country and not having to go to the city. There are many rewarding aspects working along a great committee of people and helping make a difference in our community so get in touch and see what you can do. Cris Todd.
